Health insurance for foreign language students in Germany

For foreign language students in Germany it is not easy to find the right insurance. There are German and international regulations that have to be observed. Depending on the visa and residency status, different insurances are mandatory. It has to be clarified whether private health insurance, membership in a statutory insurance, an international health insurance or the insurance in the home country is an option.

With this insurance finder, you can find the right insurance coverage for your stay in Germany.
